ClipboardCleaner is a tiny application designed to help you get around the annoying issue of having to remove the rich formatting from content copied to the clipboard. The tool is easy to use and hence, does not require to have a complicated user interface. However, considering the type of function the app performs, even the minimalist version can do a lot of good for you. ClipboardCleaner Introduction: First and foremost, if you encounter issues when pasting text into the Windows default clipboard app, you should consider using a third-party variant, which is far better than the default feature. Nevertheless, in case you require a semi-distinctive tool to handle this issue, then here are a few suggestions: Classic Copy Paste Application As stated above, the classic Windows approach to pasting is a time tested method that is quite simple to use as long as you are a competent Windows user. However, in most cases, you will encounter the issue of having to remove the formatting from text copied to the clipboard. While you might figure out a rather efficient way to perform this task, it is far from the standard approach. In fact, the default Windows clipboard app has never been easy to use. To be specific, the application simply does not handle rich formatting the way you would expect it to. As a result, you will need to investigate this tool frequently while you use Windows. Another Con: One of the important issues with the classic method is the irritating problem of proper pasting of rich formatting. To be specific, if you want to replicate font style from a website while you type, then you will need to ensure that you can paste it. This is possible by making certain modifications to the Windows default paste functionality, but you might still run into the problem of rich formatting due to the fact that you are directly pasting it into the Windows default clipboard app. The icing on the cake: The icing on the cake: An easy to use app for managing text formatting when copying to clipboard Using ClipboardCleaner, you can copy text that is formatted in a specific way to the Windows default clipboard app. Basically, you will need to activate the tool and enter the specific formatting you are looking to replicate. Then, you can set a specific hotkey to activate the tool from the Windows System Tray. Once you are done, simply copy text and then paste it into any other program you like. The app will then automatically remove the unwanted formatting and the copied content appears plain and uncl 6a5afdab4c
