Please note If you have tried running or downloading Apple OS X Lion on an Intel Mac, you might experience the following problems: 1. Your Mac is not connected to the internet 2. Your Mac has been set to a timezone that is not set on your network (i.e. California instead of GMT) Solution: Your Intel Mac doesn't have to be connected to the internet. Simply update (manually) the time zone of your mac with the following: 1. Start out with the dock at the bottom of the screen.2. Click on the Apple icon in the upper left corner.3. Open the Preferences window.4. Click on the Clock icon.5. Click on the Time Zone tab.6. Click on the South America tab.7. Check the radio button for "Automatically set to automatically set to the correct time zone" and click on the Set button.8. To choose a time zone, click on the Time Zones tab and scroll down to find the correct time zone.9. Click on the Set button in the bottom left corner to set the time zone.10. Close the window.11. Close the Dock window.12. Reposition the Dock to your choice.13. Restart your computer.14. Run Applications when the Lion start up, this will update the time zone. If you are at your home, you might leave by the Garage window and by the creek which is on your driveway. As long as you have unaltered versions of Internet Explorer on all your machines, you can use them without losing compatibility with web sites designed for Microsoft Internet Explorer. This is not the case with Google Chrome, Mozilla Firefox and Safari. Once you change to another browser, the web sites designed for Internet Explorer (IE) may not render properly in the other browsers. If you don't have, you have not yet installed, an altered version of Internet Explorer, Windows offers the following suggestions: 1. Start the computer in Safe Mode.2. Start Internet Explorer.3. Close Internet Explorer if it is running.4. Open Start, Control Panel, and double-click on the "Add or Remove Programs" icon.5. Install (or uninstall) IE.6. Start Internet Explorer.7. From the Edit menu, click on "Internet Options".8. Click on the "Advanced" tab.9. Under the "Browsing history" section, set the value of
